The main farmhouse is designed for ease of living and there is a second house for guests or parties with a large covered back porch. There is a large barn with five horse stalls and plenty of storage and there is a large storm cellar. Storage facilities include a large RV facility and another smaller structure for additional space. Pipe fencing surrounds the perimeter of the property with the ability for three separate pastures. The property is heavily treed, available for residential and-or commercial use and has been home to the Boyds and their business, Bold Oak Farm.
